Business Hit All-Time Peak

GREENCASTLE, Ind., Oct. 25 (UP)—Business established a new high record in Indiana today.

As disclosed in the index of the Indiana Bureau of Business

University's business reports that the advances were due to higher price levels.
Advances were influenced by rising trend of prices, but not many cases the increased expansion of output rather than a price of the product.

report said:
"The relatively little consumer spending to existing price levels with the possible exception of scattered resistance to higher prices, brought about an expansion of inventory August all along the line from the manufacturer to the dealer."

Business review explains practically every division of the index in September surpassed the previous point of the last nine months. The highest on record bank deposits also established a new all-time high.

Production was the best last May, and probably has exceeded that figure in an ample supply of cars.

Millers To Close Tonight

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (UP) —The nation's distillers scheduled to close down at midnight to save grain for Europe's continued drought in the wheat belt threatened the food export program.

60-day whiskey-making program was not expected to have any material effect either on distillery supplies or prices. Industry sources said the distillers would have ample reserves to carry them through the winter.

President Truman's food commission, which demanded the access to the nation's grain supply, was unable to say exactly how many distilleries would be closed. It was estimated that 90 per cent of the nation's whiskey-making capacity would be down.

IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

COAL IN WASHINGTON—
"There seems to be no question but that there is abundance of coal of good quality in Washington township. Mr. Googin, who was in town last week, says it crops out to the thickness of three feet and six inches on his farm and has been leased to the Indianapolis, El River and Vincentes Railway Company, which proposes to establish a station in that vicinity. The same region abounds in limestone and iron ore; all sources of wealth when developed." — (BANNER, June 14, 1883)—With a shortage of coal threatened over the country, we had better keep Washington township in mind.

QUINCY PICNIC—"It is understood that the Old Settlers Meeting will be held at this place on the 16th of August. Great preparations are being made, and will continue to be made up until the day, to have one of the greatest times ever witnessed at this place." — (BANNER June 14, 1883)—We wonder just how old is the Quincy picnic?

CLOVERDALE NEWS—"The Town Board met last Tuesday night and elected D. R. Maze school trustee to fill out the unexpired term of Howard Hart, who has undertaken a farmer's life, and Dr. Preston for the full term. The board at present is as follows: D. R. Maze, president; P. M. Sandy, treasurer; and Dr. Preston, secretary. The saw mill has changed hands. It is now Maze and Sinclair. This is the first time Hart's Mill was started but "what" Hart's name was in it. Mr. Hart has had more than a half a dozen different partners since he began milling. The mill is now in better condition than ever before." — (BANNER June, 1883.)

ROACHDALE EXCITEMENT
—"Our citizens have sent for a mammoth tent, in which to hold the debate at this place. August 7, between Elder Treat, of the Christian church, and Elder Herold, of the Baptist church; debates to last four days, one day to each proposition, which are as follows:
First—The Scriptures teach that salvation from sin is conditional. The condition or conditions to be performed by the sinner in order to secure freedom or salvation from sin. Treat affirms; Herold denies.
Second—The Scriptures teach unconditional election and salvation of all the seed of generation of Jesus Christ. Herold affirms; Treat denies.
Refreshment stands will be candy and candy stand and a popcorn stand.
Prizes will be given to the best masked who are the ugliest and funniest.
There will also be a cake walk.
A king and queen will be crowded. Each class of High School have chosen the most popular boy and girl to compete in this contest.
Everyone is invited to attend and have an enjoyable time."

Fourth—The Scriptures teach that the subjects of salvation, regeneration and resurrection to life is the seed or generation of Jesus Christ, is spiritual not natural. Herold affirms; Treat denies." (Banner June, 1883.)

Judge Holds Boy Had Been Insane

MARTINSVILLE, Oct. 25.—
Circuit Judge Omar O'Harrow
Friday freed 14-year-old Richard Dale Imel of the slaying of his stepmother, Mrs. Lillian Imel, in their Indianapolis home last March 18 on the ground that the youth was temporarily insane at the time.

Judge O'Harrow remanded the case to Marion county juvenile court after dismissing the first-degree murder charge against the boy.

The action followed the report of two court-appointed psychiatrists which set out that Imel was temporarily insane.

The report, prepared by Dr.
Paul Williams and Dr. M. C. Pit-kin, both of Martinsville, said that if the boy were placed in a "proper environment" he could lead a normal life. It recommended that he be examined periodically by a psychiatrist.

Reason For Inadequate Supply Of Gas Is Explained By Company

With the restrictions against the use of natural gas for space heating in effect for the 1947-48 heating season, Indiana Gas & Water Company, Inc. is obtained either directly or indirectly from the Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company, an interstate gas transmission company operating an integrated natural gas pipeline system in the States of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and Michigan. The daily capacity of this pipe line system is 425 million cubic feet. The installing standby equipment for estimated peak day demands upon the line for firm gas during the coming heating season will be in excess of 535 million cubic feet. In other words, the peak day deficiency will exceed 100 million cubic feet.

During the war, the supply of natural gas could not be materially increased due to restrictions on the manufacturing, sale, and use of gas equipment. At the war's end, manufacturers began turning out large quantities of gas equipment (particularly gas space heating equipment) and the demand for natural gas increased phenomenally over night. It has been impossible to increase the capacity of the Panhandle system sufficiently to keep up with the demand, due to material shortages.

Consequently, it has been necessary to impose restrictions on the use of natural gas in order to protect the health, well-fare and safety of the general public. Gas utilities in Indiana distributing natural or mixed gas cannot supply gas for new heating customers until the capacities of transmission lines have been adequately increased.

Further provisions have been made to curtail gas supplied to interruptible customers. These customers purchase gas at a substantially lower rate than others and their contracts provide that their supply of gas may be interrupted 100% if necessary.

In an effort to safeguard the supply of gas to all firm gas users, Indiana Gas & Water Company, Inc. is spending $250,000 storing and mixing liquefied petroleum gas. Huge tanks, each capable of holding 30,000 gallons of liquid gas, have been installed in strategic locations to be utilized in emergency. This gas will be used to supplement the supply of natural gas delivered by the pipe line and will in no way increase the supply of gas sufficiently to take care of new heating customers.

Indiana Gas & Water Company, Inc. has been expanding its facilities throughout the State, preparing for the time when more gas will be available. There is plenty of natural gas in the Texas fields and the only problem is building additional facilities to transport the gas.

52 DIE WHEN HUGE AIRLINER FALLS IN UTAH

PLANE CRASHES; BURNS NEAR BRYCE CANYON
FRIDAY P. M.

BRYCE CANYON, Utah, Oct.
25.—A United Airlines DC-6 transport plane carrying 52 persons, including two infants, smashed against a sloping hillside here Friday, scattering the shattered bodies and wreckage over a wide area.

The four-engine craft, trailing smoke and flames for at least 10 miles before it crashed, virtually disintegrated. A strip of sagebrush more than 100 yards long and 50 yards wide was burned.

The four engines, scorched and twisted, were thrown 200 to 300 feet beyond the burned area.

The largest piece of the plane was a section of the tail, only 15 or 20 feet long. It was near the forward portion of the burned area.

All the bodies, including 47 passengers and five crew members, were mangled and burned.
Most were unrecognizable.

Only three other commercial aviation crashes have taken a larger death toll. Fifty-three persons died in the wreckage of an air liner near Port Deposit, Md., last May 30. The same number perished in each of two other crashes, both at Bogota, Columbia, the first July 24, 1938, and the second last Feb. 15.

The transport was en route from Los Angeles to New York City with only one scheduled stop, Chicago.

Shortly before the crash the pilot reported by radio that fire had broken out in the plane's baggage compartment. He said he was turning back and would land at the emergency landing field here adjacent to Bryce Canyon National Park in southern Utah, about 275 miles south of Salt Lake City.

The craft barely cleared the precipitous wall of a branch of Bryce Canyon. Then it plowed into the sloping, sage-covered hillside, apparently exploded and burned.

Ten miles to the east, at Tropic, a service station operator said he saw the plane burning as it flew over that community.

J. A. Simpson of Puyallup, Wash., hunting deer in the area east of Tropic, said he saw a fire under the planes left wing.

MANY HEAR WIRTH

Large crowds continue to attend the Bible Center to hear Evangelist F. A. Wirth of Petersburg, Illinois. In his message Friday night on "The Home" the Evangelist blamed parental delinquency for the downfall of the youth throughout the world today. He pointed out that the only effective lasting solution to the problem of juvenile delinquency lies in the formation of Christian homes with family altars. Don't forget the "Youth For Christ" rally tonight featuring the young people's gospel choir from Indianapolis.

MILK STRIKE AVERTED

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(UP)—Five locals of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and

New York milk companies signed an agreement early today averting a threatened milk strike.

The two year contract signed by union officials and the milk dealers association after a 12-hour session at city hall granted a general wage increase of $8.50 a week.

The union officials said there would be no tieup, but milk deliveries throughout the city might be late because of the confusion resulting from the session continuing after the strike deadline which was set for last midnight.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN

Mr. Truman also revealed stop-gap foreign and occupation-area spending plans which may hike the special session emergency aid bill to nearly $1,000,000,000—preliminary to Marshall plan expenditures thereafter.

Immediate Republican reaction to the President's 17-minute speech was chill but cautious. Some Republicans objected that Mr. Truman made no specific recommendations for dealing with the critical domestic situation. Sen. Ralph E. Flanders, R., Vt., suggested that the GOP leadership work out its own legislative program "so that we can be off and running when Congress reconvenes."

The President said the United States could lead the world to peace and plenty. But Republican response to the whole special session project has been frosty and frequently hostile. It appeared that Mr. Truman and his congressional opposition were headed toward bruising collision of foreign and domestic policy. There were indications Republicans may demand administration agreement to a 1948 tax cut as the price of voting the requested foreign aid.

The President spoke only in general terms, leaving industry, labor and the speculators without a hint of what his last-the-price-boost recommendations will be. But there was widespread speculation that they would embrace allocation of scarce and basic commodities, higher market margin requirements and requirements to 1948 income tax cuts. These possibilities already have hit the commodity markets hard and prices have been falling.

Little Rain Seen Before Mid-week

The United States Weather Bureau in its extended weather forecast today saw little relief in the next five days for the drought-parched mid-western wheat lands or fire-blackened New England.

The Bureau said there would be "little or no rain" before Wednesday.

The danger to the winter wheat crop continued to increase and forest fires blazed all over the northern part of the nation during a day in which only a few light showers fell in scattered areas.

Government farm experts forecast steadily mounting wheat prices and an increasing difficulty to fill the world's food needs, unless relief comes to the wheat belt within the next two weeks.

The drought has already forced farmers in Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas to delay wheat drilling. Farms in southeast Nebraska and most of Kansas are behind schedule. The experts worried about the delays since wheat planted after Oct. 10 usually does poorly.

New fires flared up in West Virginia, New York, Wisconsin and throughout New England.

More than 500 volunteers in Keyser, W. Va., fought five forest fires threatening an estimated 15 square miles of Mineral county woodlands. Two of the areas largest apple orchards were destroyed in the first few hours. The blaze crept up to within three and one-half miles of Keyser's city limits and inhabitants prepared to evacuate if a strong east wind arose.

In New England more than 200 fires had taken 14 lives, caused more than $25,000,000 damage and left 5,000 homeless in a five-day scourge that saw at least six communities virtually leveled.

At Bar Harbor, Me., fire-fighters appeared to be winning their battle against the blaze which destroyed two-thirds of the wealthy summer resort, forced evacuation of 3,500 residents and

Inside WASHINGTON

Demos, Too, Regard "Ike" Highly as '48 Candidate

Many Would Prefer to See General on Truman Ticket

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—It is no secret in Washington political circles that the Democrats from President Truman down the line believe that General Eisenhower, if "drafted," would be the toughest GOP presidential candidate to beat.

Most Democrats, faced with a decision, would rather have Eisenhower as their vice presidential candidate than Defense Secretary James Forrestal, the current front runner. That desire, observers are convinced, also is shared by Forrestal.

However, the Democrats are certain that Eisenhower will turn out to be a Republican, once he sheds his uniform and becomes president of Columbia university.

They also believe that General "Ike" will settle for nothing less than the GOP presidential nomination by acclamation if a Taft-Dewey stalemate develops in Philadelphia next June.

● FARM PRICES—A farm state senator is secretly sounding out his colleagues and farm organizations on a proposal to roll back grain prices to parity—with the nation's farmers given, in return, assurance of price support for perhaps three years longer.

The midwest Republican—who isn't sure enough of his ground yet to allow his name to be used—thinks his farm-state constituents would acclaim the idea if it is fully explained to them.

So he is toying with the idea of writing legislation to achieve the price roll-back to 100 per cent of parity, and, simultaneously, to extend price supports at 90 per cent of parity for three years. The immediate effect would be deep cuts in soaring grain prices.

The senator says nobody would get hurt in the long run but speculators.

● CHAOS IN CHINA—Conditions in strife-torn, over-crowded, starving China apparently are getting worse daily. Dr. Ta Chen, professor of sociology at Tsing Hau university, recently reported two alarming trends in his country.

First, he says, the already heavy load of China's "surplus population" is being added to by a rapidly rising birth rate.

Second, there is a mass movement of people from the farms to the cities, causing urban populations to jump seven per cent annually.

To make matters worse, the greatest part of the migration city-wise seems to be coming from the rice fields, where greater production is an absolute necessity to prevent additional thousands from starving.

● "GIFT" FOR ATOM GROUP—The Atomic Energy Commission takes no chances when mysterious packages arrive at its closely guarded headquarters in Washington.

Yet, sometimes, the commission's precautions turn out not to be necessary. Recently when a nondescript box arrived from California, the package was rushed through the usual radio-activity tests by a Geiger counter.

Satisfied that the box contained no radio-active material, the commission opened it to find only a pile of common dust, cigar ashes, and mustard plasters.

The box came from a west coast "astrologer-scientist" who offered to sell the government an amazing secret of spectral science for one million dollars. Later, the same man also sent a box that contained nothing but air.
